President Obama is hosting the White House Tribal Nations Conference at the Department of the Interior. The conference will provide leaders from the 566 federally recognized tribes the opportunity to interact directly with the President and members of the White House Council on Native American Affairs.

Each federally recognized tribe will be invited to send one representative to the conference. This will be the fifth White House Tribal Nations Conference for the Obama Administration, and continues to build upon the President's commitment to strengthen the government-to-government relationship with Indian Country and to improve the lives of Native Americans.

As is our custom, we will be onsite to provide a visible presence for Leonard Peltier and to conduct outreach with Tribal representatives.

Our day will begin at sunrise in Simon Bolivar Park, located south of the Department of Interior, Eighteenth and C Streets, NW, Washington, DC. More details TBA.
